

CALL FOR PAPERS

JBEE-LACEA BRAIN-Tec Workshop: Behavioral and Experimental Economics in Latin America

The Journal of Behavioral and Experimental Economics (JBEE), the Behavioral Insights Network (BRAIN) of the Latin American and the Caribbean Economic Association (LACEA), and the Behavioral and Experimental Economics Research Lab (BEER) at Tecnológico de Monterrey invite the academic community to take part in the JBEE-LACEA BRAIN-Tec Workshop: Behavioral and Experimental Economics in Latin America, to be held on October 28th at the School of Government and Public Transformation, Tec de Monterrey campus in Mexico City.

About the workshop

The workshop brings together frontier research in behavioral and experimental economics conducted in Latin America or by Latin American scholars. The event aims to strengthen regional collaboration networks and to announce further details about an incoming special issue on Economic Experiments in Latin America, to be launched in the Journal of Behavioral and Experimental Economics at the end of 2026.
